ABOUT WATERMARK FOR KIDS

Watermark for Kids is a nonprofit organization that reduces barriers and helps kids ages 6–22 access life-enhancing opportunities so they can thrive. We're driven by the fundamental belief that all children have innate greatness and deserve equitable opportunities regardless of race, ethnicity, gender, socioeconomic status, disability, sexual orientation, or religious affiliations.

The Watermark Connection

In 2007, David Barnes founded Watermark for Kids. Watermark has created multiple senior living communities across the country, and each has a Watermark for Kids component led by a community representative known as the Watermark for Kids Champion, who works with children, volunteers, residents, associates, donors, and the Executive Director of Watermark for Kids.

Who We Help

Watermark for Kids has awarded more than $1.2 million, helping thousands of kids, ages 6–22, in communities across the world by providing financial assistance with the following:

Education and Exploration – books, supplies, laptops, academic clubs, travel and trip expenses, tuition assistance, scholarships, room and board expenses, after-school activities, and summer camps.

Sports and Fine Arts – sports registration fees and equipment, clubs, musical instruments and lessons, theater and dance classes, camps, and travel and trip expenses.

Health and Well-Being – counseling, dental care, adaptive wheelchairs, medical equipment, and therapeutic treatments not covered by medical insurance.
